Presented at Tulane by Newcomb College Center for Research on Women

Pre-Conference Tour of New Orleans on Thursday, October 4, 2007

Day of Service with Katrina Warriors Network on Friday, October 5, 2007

Why is the response to Hurricane Katrina a feminist issue? How do the hard lessons of Katrina resonate with the experiences of people around the globe? Why do the outrages of Katrina matter to people everywhere?

Government policies at the federal, state and local levels have failed the people of the Gulf Coast. Join activists from across the country as we explore how these failed policies not only affect those of the Gulf Coast, but how similar policies impact women, people of color, and the poor around the world. Learn about the grassroots networks making a difference in New Orleans and beyond.

The three-day event includes a pre-conference tour and panel on corruption and rebuilding efforts in New Orleans, a day of service benefiting New Orleans area programs, and conference filled with all the tools you need to make a difference on your campus, in your community, and worldwide.

*Following the conference on Saturday, October 6 join us at a Ms. magazine community reception from 6pm-8pm at Newcomb College Center for Research on Women
